

W E L C O M E S P R I N G !

We are finishing up a great term of winter classes in J.C. and Jonesborough and are looking forward to what is ahead this spring! Tom just wound up his solo exhibition at Lees-McRae College and is off to Arlington, Virginia, to paint two portraits this week. Peggy will be a guest artist with the Asheville Urban Landscape Project on location April 14th and is working towards an exhibition of paintings for Blue Spiral 1 in July. Another group of paintings is planned to ship to Memphis and Nashville. We will keep you posted on the scheduling.

Join us as we kick off the spring and summer season of workshops and classes – held both outside and in. On Friday evening, April 24th, we will showcase some of our students in an exhibition at the Jonesborough Studio. In May, we have our “Light, Life and Atmosphere” workshop at the beautiful McKinney Center in Jonesborough. This is a workshop for any level artist and a great kickstart to a season of every kind of painting. In June, we have scheduled our Art Camp for young artists and then the always fun - plein air workshop in and around Historic Jonesborough: “Painting the Old Town”. Tom is changing up the summer term this year and offering a workshop in figure and portrait painting and drawing in July. This course will be held in his J.C. Studio. We will take a break in August and then in September, Peggy will lead the “Painting Water” workshop and in October the “Painting Color” workshop – both “en plein air” in our beautiful Tennessee mountains and foothills.

Visit us in the Studio! The studio school in Jonesborough will often be open on Friday nights during “Music on the Square,” and on Saturday mornings during Jonesborough’s Farmer’s Market and other special events during the summer season. Keep posted for announcements on live music, painting demonstrations and an ever changing exhibition of paintings. See our website at: www.rootstudioschool.com for schedules and details of classes and events.
